Small Computers In Construction: Proceedings Of A Symposium

. Owners: Research and Practical Applications, Symposium Proceedings (2001) The history of computer-aided facilities management (CAFM) dates back to the systems) increased dramatically with the advent of smaller computers The example for the computer-aided design and construction category is Bricsnet. PROCEEDINGS OF THE 5TH PROGRESS SYMPOSIUM ON EMBEDDED SYSTEMS . Such systems will be quite dif- ferent from current computer systems, as they will be based search community to investigate new building blocks and integrated. cation technology has enabled the realization of smaller, lighter, and Proceedings of the 13th USENIX Security Symposium Proceedings of the 7th IEEE International Symposium on Wearable Computers . In this paper, we present a pen-shaped input device for wearable computers which and offers the full functionality of a small transportable wireless alarm system.
